1974 Montreal Meetings of the Association for the Sociology of Religion

Papers are invited within a focus on three areas:

1. Considering the frequency with which religious leaders are urged to be critics of North American Society, e.g. militarism, racism etc., the program chairman seeks papers which show the extent to which religious bodies or individual leaders have heard the call to be prophetic, have responded or failed to respond.
2. Considering, as one 1973 ASA panelist put it, that sociological theory is in a state of flux among Parsonian functionalism, Marxist theory, structuralism and existentialism, the program chairman seeks papers dealing with theory in the sociology of religion.
3. Considering that many members of the Association may have completed empirical work not within the two preceding areas, the program chairman seeks papers of an empirical nature.

Deadline for papers:

March 15, 1974. No paper considered after that date.

Length:

Papers should not exceed 1500 words. And papers read at other meetings or published prior to September 1974 are ineligible for the program.

Submit papers to:

Dr. Robert E. Moran C.S.P.
3015 4th St. N.E.
Washington, D.C. 20017

Publication Rights:

It should be noted that the Association's journal, Sociological Analysis, has first review of papers.
